

In the Supreme Court of the State of Alaska

James Dobson,

Petitioner,

v.

Toni L Dobson,

Respondent.

Supreme Court No. S-17445

Order

Appellate Rule 402

Date of Notice: 5/9/2019

Trial Court Case No. 3AN-11-09818CI

On April 25, 2019, James W. Dobson filed a petition for review of various orders and actions by the superior court and court-appointed parenting coordinator, all pertaining to an on-going child custody action.

On May 7, 2019 counsel for Toni L. Dobson filed a copy of the superior court's Order Modifying Custody and Visitation dated May 3, 2019. This order is a final, appealable order and it appears to subsume all of the issues raised by James Dobson in his petition for review. The superior court's final custody order renders moot the petition for review. James Dobson may seek to appeal any of the points he raises in his petition for review as well as any issues decided in the superior court's May 3, 2019 order modifying custody and visitation. The petition for review is DISMISSED as MOOT.

This order dismissing the petition for review should not be understood to foreclose any defenses that there may be to the issues raised in James Dobson's petition for review. The intent of this court's order is to permit James Dobson to reassert as points on appeal the issues he raised in his petition, so that those points may be addressed along with whatever points he may raise on appeal from the superior court's May 3, 2019 custody and visitation order.

Issued by direction of an individual justice.
